

SPACE TECHNOLOGY

In the early 1900s, there was no electricity generation. There were no electrical appliances whatsoever.

How much easier and more comfortable our lives became after electricity was invented.

If I fail to decipher the subatomic vibration and electron codes that enable water molecules to assume beautiful shapes when exposed to positive words, our future will resemble that of the series The Expanse: it will take us a full century just to spread across the solar system, and our species will be relying on fossil-fuel engines—operating at G-force and speed limitations—to navigate the cosmos by splitting the hydrogen and oxygen within water molecules.

Geniuses like Mr. Trust in the series The Ark can make a huge difference.

If I cannot complete my "subatomic electron codes of positive attributes" project, the future will be like the series The Expanse.

If I can extract the subatomic electron codes for positive qualities, the future will be like what is depicted in films such as The Ark, The Orville, or Star Wars.

PRODUCTION OF STRONG CELLS

The fulfillment of the conditions associated with the DOGUM file endowed it with the ability to transmit electrons away from the palms of the hands.

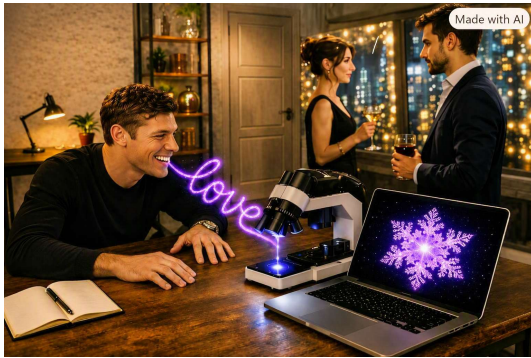

It is possible to understand the logic much better if you read the SYSTEM file before reading this One. First, I will explain the process of producing strong cells;

Perspektifleştirmektесiniz
İlericileştirebilecekseler
Tedariklileştirilebilirdim
Keyiflileştirilebiliyorlar
Reformistleşebilirliğinden
Alçakgönüllüleşebileceksin

Özgünleştireceklerindendir
Faalleştirilebilirliğinizi
Mukavemetlileştirileceksem
Özgüvenlileştirileceğimden
Kişiliklileştirilecekseniz
Güleryüzlüleştirebileceğim

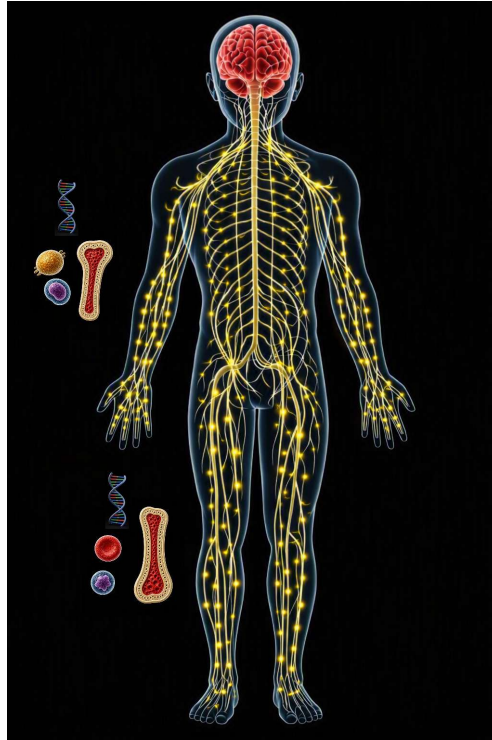

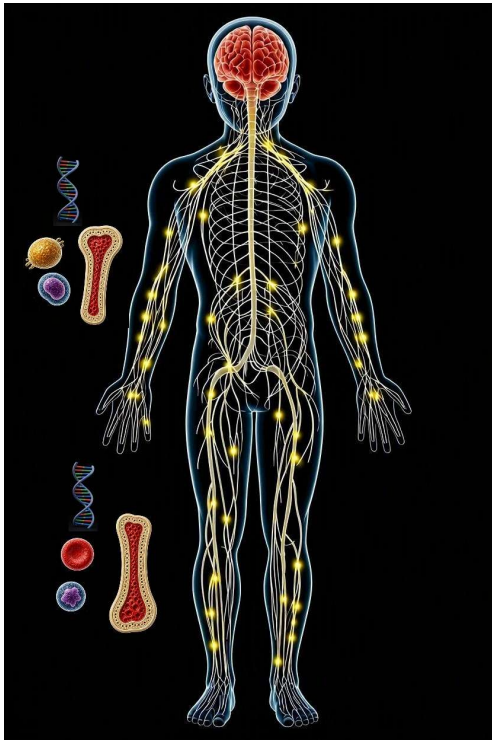

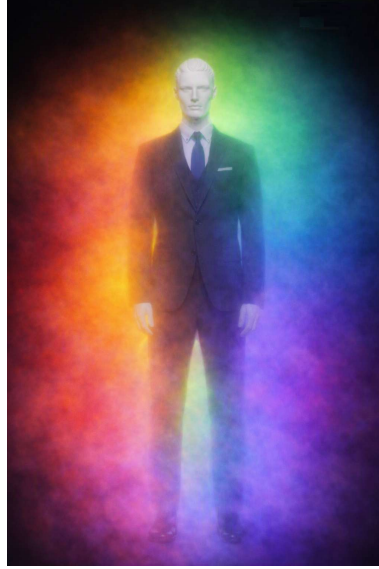

I wrote out all the positive adjectives—like the ones mentioned above—using both hands simultaneously to type different words. This amounted to a total of 20,000 pages. Even now, my cells are, on average, 25 to 50 times stronger. By applying this new method, it is possible to generate cells that are 200 times stronger within one to two years.

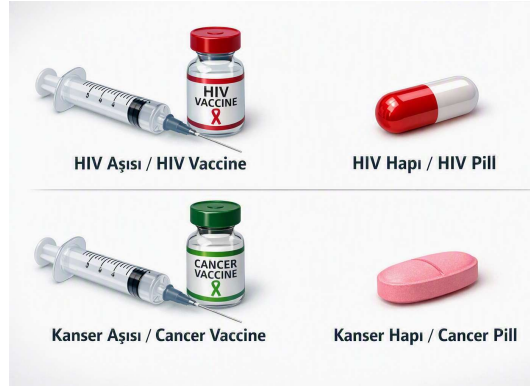

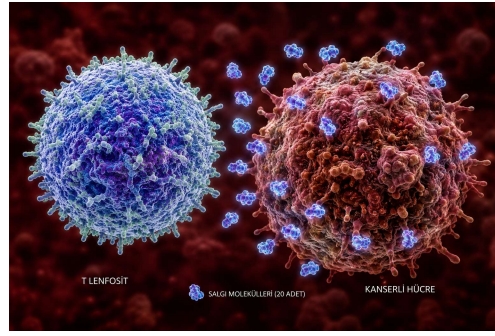

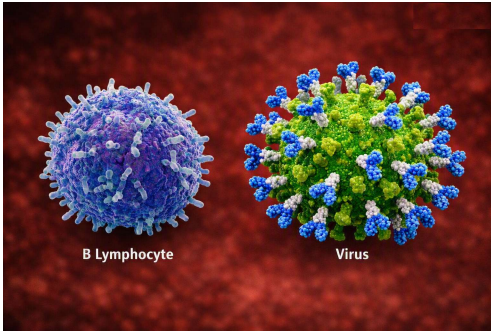

In the images above, there is an energy that alters the shape of the water molecule when a positive attribute is ascribed to it.

When writing two different words simultaneously with the right and left hands—as shown at the link <https://www.youtube.com/@RealFutureScience>—a person's aura suddenly expands, shifting from the state seen in the image on the bottom left to that on the right.

You can sense this surge of energy through a simple experiment. When a person asks someone nearby to hand them an object, and that person complies, the quantum energy associated with qualities such as helpfulness, courtesy, and kindness is felt. In that moment, time stands still for the person handing over the object; they shift dimensions, briefly entering the realm of light—the source of beams emitted by pulsars. For an outside observer, too, time halts; only the person handing over the object exists, while everything else comes to a standstill.

In the image at the top left, one can see the electrons flowing from the central nervous system of the person who is writing; based on these electron flows—and the electron codes transmitted to the bone marrow—DNA sequences are formed and cells are produced. When the person writes two different words simultaneously with both hands, the flow, quality, and power of the electrons reaching the bone marrow increase, resulting in the production of much stronger cells through superior and more powerful DNA codes.

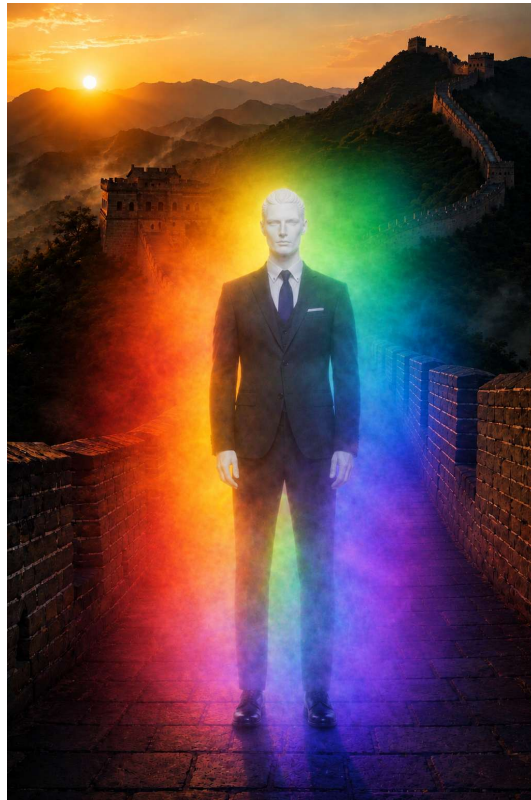

Once potent cells are produced from the lymphocyte blood cells that destroy cancer and the HIV virus, a natural pill or vaccine for cancer and HIV could be developed using the molecular formulas of the enzymes that target these cells and the virus. Its potential economic value could reach $800 billion.

DECODING THE ATTRIBUTES OF ALL POSITIVE QUALITIES

First, one must understand what "quantum energy of positive attributes" is. Positive attributes in the human brain are essentially neuronal connections. It is a form of energy that flows among the electrons moving around these neuronal connections in the human brain. It is the human soul.

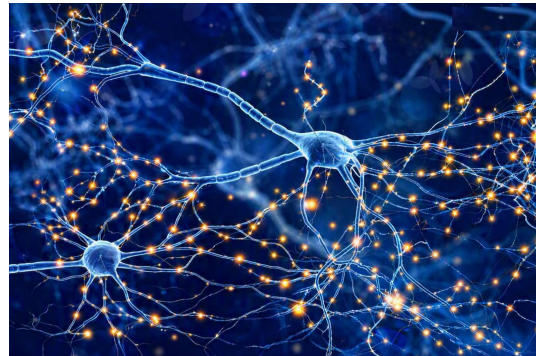

In the images above, no matter how far apart the locations are where the person is photographed, their aura remains the same. The quantum energy of positive attributes to be generated is an energy that can be transmitted within light, free from radiation.

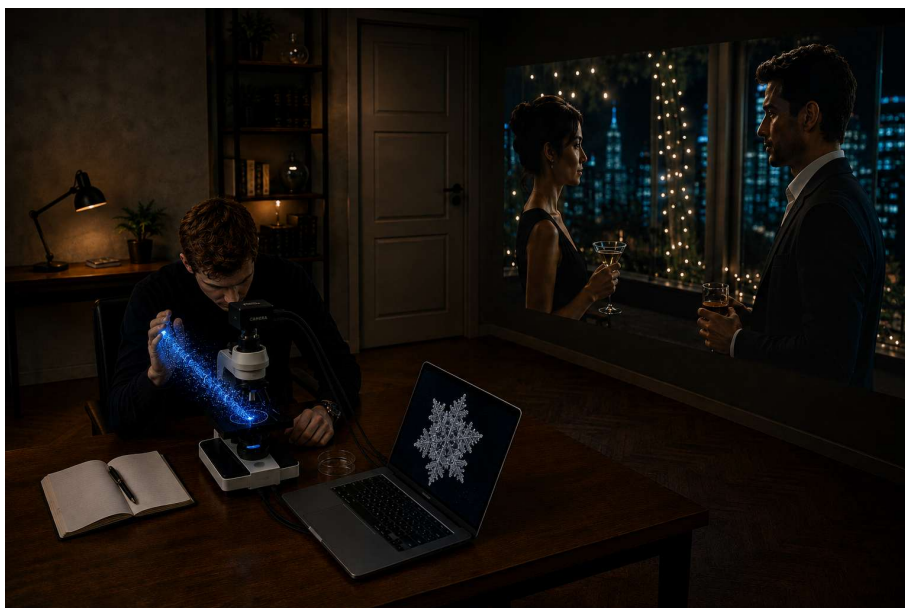

First, identifying which chakra a color belongs to—based on Kirlian photography—by vocalizing the 74 positive attributes associated with each chakra (as shown in the images at the top left). Creating combinations for simultaneously writing two different positive attributes using both hands.

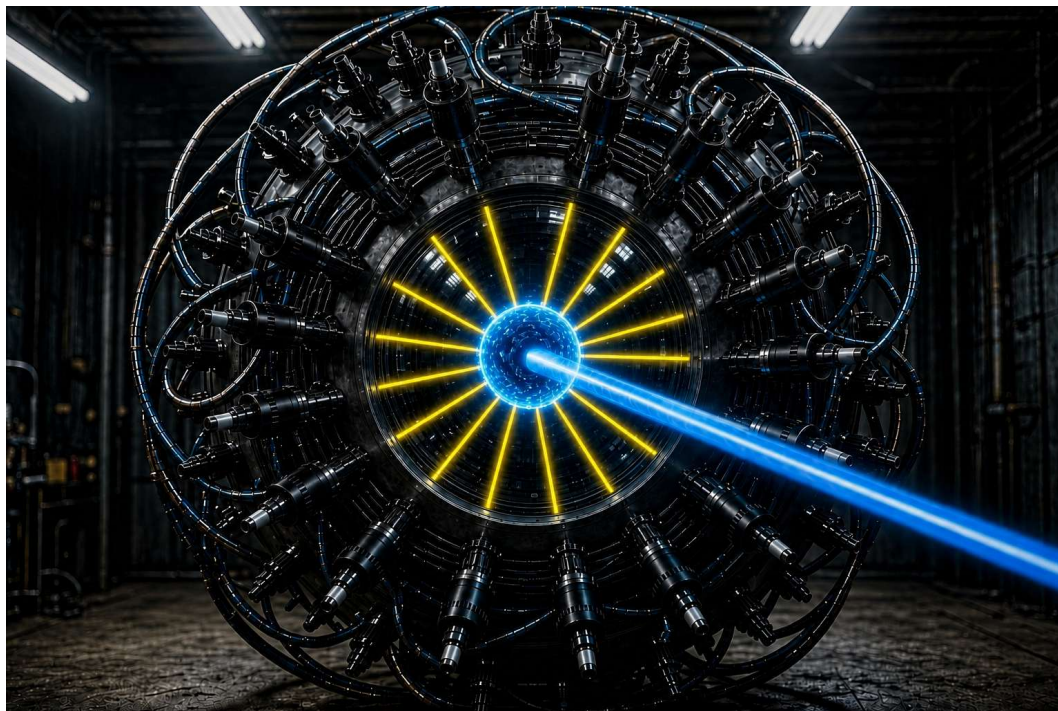

By writing different positive adjectives with both hands simultaneously, neuronal connections in the brain will develop and strengthen.

As shown in the image above and described in the video at <https://www.youtube.com/@RealFutureScience> —though I do not know how long the process takes—it is possible to extract the specific codes corresponding to the shapes a water molecule assumes when a positive attribute is spoken aloud. By transmitting these codes via electrons from my palms to the water, I can induce that specific shape; subsequently, by transmitting those same codes to a camera sensor, the electrons striking the sensor can be made to reveal their codes in sequence. Once the electron codes for 666 (or more) positive attributes have been extracted...

Subsequently, when the electron codes for all positive attributes are transmitted via the electron guns shown in the image below, the quantum energy of all these positive attributes will be generated within the light source.

What can be produced with this energy?

Deep space communication, utilizing the motion of the Solar System or the Galaxy.

Artificial gravity

Warp bubble

Warp speed

Force field

Radiation shield

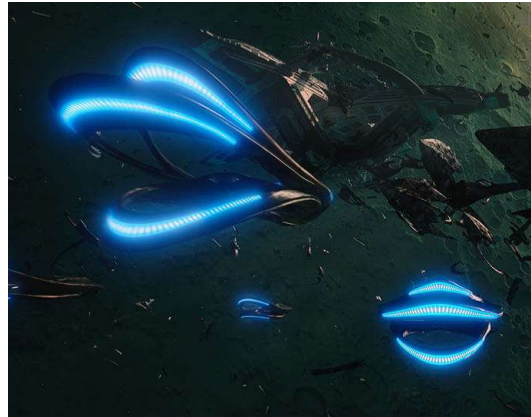

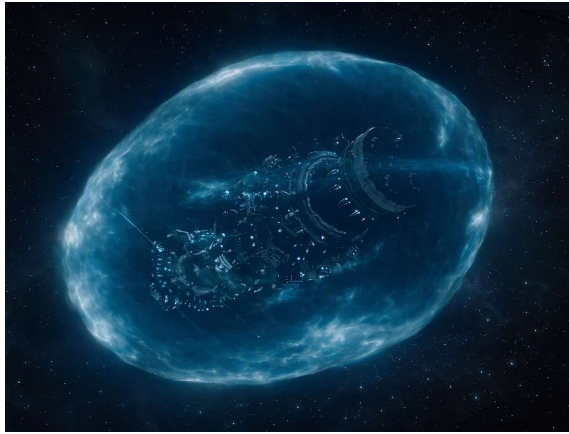

Quantum energy-propelled engines—like those in The Orville—rather than fossil-fuel engines.

It can be used to dissociate the two hydrogen atoms and one oxygen atom in water molecules.

I can create the spherical shape shown above using my auras. Metal allows cosmic radiation to pass through, but—unlike metal—chakra-based aura shields block radiation.

I can do what is shown in the two images above. If I can do it, devices can do it too. The bubble in the image above represents a radiation shield, a force field, a warp bubble, propulsion, and artificial gravity. Moreover, when I form those auras into a sphere around me, my atomic integrity remains intact.

I will share these technologies with developed countries in exchange for payment. First and foremost, I am an individual motivated by my own personal gains.

I will only release this code once my own returns are guaranteed.

Once I have established my own company, developed myself, and produced the technology—as illustrated in the image below—I will host a cocktail event to launch the product, collect payment, and hand over the technology.
